I am the living bread that came down from heaven; whoever eats this bread will live forever; and the bread that I give is my flesh for the life of the world... Unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you do not have life within you. Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him on the last day. (Jn 6: 51-54)

Our Lady Fights Against Satan

from papaboys.com

If we still believe the gospel, we cannot deny that Satan is the tempter and perverter of humanity. He struggles with all his strength and his damned angelic intuitions to escape Jesus and throw us all into despair and then with him into hell. He does not stand still for a moment. He thinks, he plans and acts to hit us at the weakest point and thus destroy our resistance. Above all, he seeks to weaken us by distracting us from prayer, inspiring us with many things, even good ones, so that we no longer pray.

In this regard we read Our Lady's message: "When you feel weakness in your prayer, do not stop but continue to pray with all your heart. And do not listen to the body, but gather yourself completely in your spirit. Pray with even greater strength so that your body will not overcome the spirit and your prayer will not be empty. All of you who feel sluggishness in prayer, pray with greater ardor, fight and meditate on what you pray for. Do not let any thought deceive you in prayer. Push away all thoughts, except those that unite Me and Jesus to you. Cast out the other thoughts with which Satan wants to deceive you and take you away from me. (February 27, 1985).

It is a clear message about Satan's action towards the weak, those who pray little or badly and are unable to govern the thoughts that come to mind, to discern and intuit the origin of an idea, so as to let themselves be conditioned by any thought that comes to mind.

Many of the thoughts that come to our minds are temptations of Satan and distract us and make our prayer empty, without love and trust. We know that Satan never rests.

Our thoughts can also come from Satan. He is the main deviator of our Faith. It is he who always wants to distance us from the truth of the gospel. But there is also our human spirit to give us feelings contrary to the truth, especially if we live our faith with little fidelity.

Satan's attack on humanity and against the Catholic Church have become ruthless in the past decades. So many strange events have happened in the world and they have aroused apprehension in many people. This is why Our Lady in Medjugorje has come. Her appearances are considered true and extraordinary even by many Cardinals and Bishops.

Those who have the Spirit of God, easily read the signs of these times. They realize that the world is now in the hands of Satan; instead, those who do not have the Spirit of God, do not understand the destruction Satan is preparing for humanity. To them, it seems that everything is fine, indeed, things have never gone better because this life is full of enjoyment and you can now satisfy every pleasure, every instinct that comes to mind.

In those people in whom Satan is master, a very strong anger mixed with hatred against Medjugorje and against Our Lady is born. They come to pronounce heavy offenses against the Mother of God, only because she comes to remind us of fidelity to the Gospel and to tell us that Jesus calls us to conversion and to His Commandments. Many people who condemn Our Lady's apparitions are Catholic.

Satan and all the demons are unleashed against mankind and seek to destroy everything possible. Their murderous fury transmits hatred against all those who are not protected by Our Lady and this also applies to consecrated persons. And where there is hatred, Our Lady came to speak to us of the love of Jesus and to invite us to forgiveness. "Love, love! Jesus easily converts people if you love. Love yourselves too: this is how the world is changed!" (23 February 1985).

In people deprived of the Grace of God, there is a greater inclination to evil and sinfulness; to malice, to use every form of disloyalty to obtain what they want.

This rule does not concern all non-believers or indifferent believers. But in many cases it is so, one way or another, even for a single situation and maybe not for all those in which they are involved. But it is enough to run into a negative situation with those who do not love and live in wickedness, to suffer moral, spiritual and emotional damage.

We find ourselves involved in an incredible spiritual war between the forces of Good and the forces of evil. In the end, Good will always win, but in the meantime the disturbances caused by Satanic forces will have made the good suffer and many will suffer enormously, millions and millions of human beings.

The persecutions against the Catholic Church and the followers of Christ, the strange and incurable diseases, the wars caused by Satan will have been countless in the meantime.

To understand well this unleashing of Satan, the danger of the betrayal of many consecrated persons in the Catholic Church, the emptying of morality, it is necessary to read the Book of Revelation. Everything is explained there. Even Satan's bold plan against God. It is a real war at the level of spirits, as has never happened before.

To carry out this evil plan, Satan has created an immense team of rascals and wretches, operating in many sectors of public life, many of them occupying authoritative positions.

For this criminal plan of Satan, all hell has been unleashed against the Catholic Church and many evil forces of the earth have gathered for a common project: to destroy the Catholic Church.

Here is the birth of communism in the last century, the spread in the world of errors and falsehoods of the most false and diabolical ideology in human history.

The de-Christianization of the world is also in Satan's plan, carried out by occult powers. The Catholic Church today finds itself fighting against a few billion people, all subject to the service of Satan.

From the Diary of Sister Emmanuel

On April 25th, 2023, the visionary Marija received the following monthly message from Our Lady:

“Dear children! I am calling all of you to be carriers of the peace and joy of the risen Jesus for all those who are far from prayer; that the love of Jesus, through your lives, may transform them to a new life of conversion and holiness. Thank you for having responded to my call.”

Madame Siemienka's Rosary

In this month of May dedicated to Our Lady, let me share with you one of the most beautiful and favorite testimonies that I know of. Don't miss the power of our Heavenly Mother!

Adam Chmielowski, at age 24, was already a famous painter. He was handsome, young, rich, and a go-getter. In other words, "he had everything going for him", as the expression goes. It was the end of the 19th century, and Warsaw high society was snatching up his paintings. His success promised him a brilliant career. Adam was Catholic because of family tradition, and lived as an upright, honest man. However, he began to shift toward unwonted and occult practices. Some evenings, in Krakow, he liked to join his rich friends who would invite him to sessions where they would use Ouija boards. In their living room, there was a very heavy wooden table that had large metal rods. This was ideal for such activities, where people call upon "spirits" which respond by having the table make huge leaps, as if weighing as light as a feather. Adam was fascinated!

However, in a remote and dark corner of the room, someone was suffering. That was Mrs. Siemienka, the wife of the Master of Ceremonies. She was a devout Catholic, and knew the Bible very well. She also knew how displeasing her husband's activities were to God. Is it not clearly written that this is an abomination before Adonai, the Living God? However, she insisted on staying in her corner of the room in order to pray. She knew that God could prevent the arrival of evil spirits and curb their damage in the souls of these misguided people. With her rosary in hand, she prayed through the decades, begging the Blessed Mother to intervene.

But suddenly, the spirits manifested with a vengeance and potency! The heavy table began to turn and spin in the living room. Her blood began to boil, she couldn't take it any longer! Rosary in hand, she jumped up from her chair, walked towards the group of spiritualists and, in an angry gesture, threw her Rosary beads on the table. Wide-eyed, dumb with amazement and dumbfounded, Adam watched. Under Madame Siemienka's Rosary beads, the heavy whirling table stopped dead in its tracks, and broke in two! Adam describes it like this: "Then we heard a very loud bang, like a gunshot." Frightened, the spiritualists turned on the light and remained dead silent.

Adam had just experienced the shock of his life. He stared at the little Rosary beads lying near the miserably broken table, like David's meagre stone near the inert body of the huge Goliath. He understood! He didn't need any further instruction: in this fight between good and evil, the Blessed Mother defeated Satan with a simple Rosary! From then on, his life changed radically, he had no more time to waste.

He left his riches, his success and his unwonted activities; he transformed his art and started painting the face of Christ. He became a servant to the poor. He even went to live among them, in the sordid areas of Warsaw where the villains and thieves all lived. He would tell them the Good News of Christ, and transform them into disciples. He founded the Order of the Albertines. His example of charity, his miracles, his compassion for the poor, and his folly in the imitation of Christ were so remarkable that he gained another kind of glory: one that was divine and lasting. His compatriot John Paul II canonized him on November 12, 1989.

Our Lady has said it clearly in Medjugorje, “Dear children, even a simple Rosary can work miracles in your lives and in the world.” (Jan. 25, 1991)

And what about Mrs. Siemienka? She probably only found out in heaven what fruits her Rosary and the suffering offered up to God bore! That day, in the corner of her dark living room, how could she guess that her husband's illustrious friend, this brilliant young Adam, would let himself be defeated by her simple Hail Mary's whispered in the secret of her heart, until he became a saint? How could she hope that she would see the power of the Virgin Mary over the forces of evil burst forth before her own eyes? It is this very same power that is offered to all of us through the intercession of Our Lady, in this difficult time when, as never before, Mary reaches out to us so that we may enter into her maternal embrace, so consoling, so healing and so soothing! If a child is injured, will it not immediately take refuge in the bosom of its mother? Why would we behave like orphans?

A Look Back: When Fr. Jozo Began to Believe the Children

A transcript of interviews of Fr Jozo from the early days

Father Jozo was the parish priest in Medjugorje when the apparitions of Our Lady first began back in June of 1981. Father Jozo described the events when Medjugorje was in Yugoslavia and the Catholic Church was persecuted under communist rule. It has never been sufficiently emphasized that the children were imprisoned, put under house arrest, police were actually stationed at the doors of their homes.

Fr. Jozo Zofko

"I did not accept the appearances of Our Lady in the beginning. I was totally reserved because I felt a great responsibility upon myself. I feared and I couldn't free myself from that feeling because I did not know these children, their parents nor their families. I knew positively only one thing. I did not want to disturb in any way the work of the Church or even to become her enemy."

"When these mighty crowds started to increase more and more, I tried consciously to distance myself from all of it. Yet, there was great enthusiasm in this mighty crowd. As it grew day by day and all these events continued, I feared more. I felt that I had to do something. I could not blindly accept someone else's belief. I felt that I too had the right to experience for myself if this were true and how it could be proven. I felt in that moment the same feeling which all of the prophets felt when they had been somehow exposed without knowing why. I felt always that God needs me and every other human being. That is why I was then totally open in my prayer. I told Him, 'O Lord, I know that you need me. Tell me what I should do now.'"

"Then I heard the voice inside myself, catching hold of my soul, as well as an acoustic voice which was echoing throughout. 'Well, go out now and before anything else, protect the children. I went out on the middle door. I took the door handle opened the door. Made only one step. And in that moment children like honey bees swarmed around me, They screamed, 'Save us, the police are chasing us.'"

"I went with them to the rectory, unlocked the door and gave them one room in which no one was sleeping. We used it as our library. I told them not to go out until I returned. I went out and locked the door. Then I descended the stairs. I went a few meters towards the church and saw policemen running. They stopped me and asked: 'Have you seen the children?'"

"Yes."

"And they continued to run. I returned to the church and prayed again. After, I felt much stronger but still the path was not clear to me. I went back to children and spoke to them afterwards about everything. Because of the force of circumstance it was the first time that they had visions here in this house, in this room."

"Later on, a lot of things happened. At the same time as the appearances together there were crosses, torments, and troubles. Afterwards I was ready to endure it and have it happen. You remember when they took me away as a common outlaw and I went away and so on."

"When I found in my heart that sureness I looked for, then I was ready, as weak as I am, I was ready then to pledge my belief with my life. If I had done anything else other than stay here it would have become I feel like Judas's kiss on my life. I felt that for such a gift to our time, to our church, to my people, and to the whole Catholic Church, and to the whole world I have consciously to suffer or let us say to endure this trouble. Nothing could have disturbed my nerves or provoked me. Although there were chances for it, because they have methods and they know how to use them pretty well.

"But really God was with me and I have stayed always, after all of the interrogations and mistreatment, stayed strong and I was becoming always happier more sure of myself and more satisfied. And so it was for me an experience of mercy."

After this experience in the church, after hearing the voice say, "Now go out and protect the children" and with the children arriving immediately at the church in need of protection from the police, Fr. Jozo began to believe that these apparitions were from for God, his fear began to leave him. He willingly went to prison, and as he says it became for him an experience of mercy. Father Jozo was sentenced to two and one half years in prison for trying to destroy the system. Eventually he served a year and a half before he was released.

Also, Fr. Jozo recalled in a separate interview his first encounter with the bishop after the apparitions of Our Lady began. "The bishop called me to Citluk in order to avoid coming to Medjugorje. And we had lunch in Citluk. In the course of lunch, he asked me in an offhand way, Fr Jozo, what is happening in the parish. I started to explain and he immediately brought up the comparison with Lourdes. For me that was very difficult."

"When we had finished lunch, I asked him to come. He promised to come. He did not come that same day but a day later. Already in Citluk I had told him that I had recorded all of the interrogations of the children on tape. Not that I was convinced by these one to one conversations. For me these were just an account and nothing special by way of testimony. He had also brought a small tape recorder and interviewed the children in the presbytery. But he was wiser than me. He acted as a bishop. He made them speak under oath. He placed them before the cross and said, "Now children swear that you will tell me the truth." That was something I hadn't thought of."

"After a little more than 2 hours the bishop came out and said enthusiastically, "Now I am one hundred percent sure that the children aren't lying. They are telling the truth." I took his hand. In his left hand he was holding the tape recorder. I pulled him by the right hand into the dining room. The children remained in front of the door. Inside I told him, 'How can you say this after only two hours. Why are you so sure. I would like to know. Because I cannot be so sure.' And he looked at me and simply but firmly refused to say anything else but, 'How can you speak like that. What do you want? Do you want to see Our Lady as well?' That put me in my place..."

Fr Jozo with the children in the early days, before he went to prison

Staying in Medjugorje at Marija's Guest House

By Angeline Wilkes from spiritofmedjugorje.org

David and I went to Medjugorje in October 2022 and stayed at Marija Pavlović-Lunetti's guest house. She is one of the six visionaries who has been seeing our Blessed Mother Mary every day since June 25, 1981. We returned to Medjugorje to mark the 25th year anniversary of our visit to Medjugorje in 1997, when David arrived an agnostic but left a convert.

During the first few days, we didn't see Marija because she has a home in Italy and also in Medjugorje, but we were expecting to see her about three days into the pilgrimage. While I was in the large foyer of her guest house, I recognized her walking past me. I could see she was busy, helping the staff manage the guest administration after her late arrival from Italy. What struck me immediately was the youthful, joyful and relaxed expression on her face. She noticed me looking at her and smiled. I said, "Hello, Marija!" She must have picked up that I was mildly star-struck and removed any discomfort by warmly greeting me with a hug. We exchanged a few words, including that she had been stuck in traffic as there were long delays on the drive from Italy. As a result, she had only a couple of hours of sleep. I commented to her how it was possible that she looked so joyful and youthful with only two hours sleep. She smiled, shrugged, and said something along the lines of "Perhaps I'm reflecting Our Lady, who always comes positive and joyful."

In the basement of the guest house is a large chapel. In the evening at 5 pm, Marija rings a bell and calls everyone to Rosary. The chapel fills up and the Rosary is led by invited priests or religious at the front, in English, Croatian, Italian or other languages. All pray in their native tongue. As it gets close to the time of the apparition, Marija kneels down and continues praying. We know when Our Lady arrives, as Marija stops praying and gazes upwards. Everyone falls silent for the duration of the apparition. We were lucky to take part in this three times. On the third occasion, there was a little baby girl standing on her mother's lap, facing outward toward Marija. She was perhaps 18 months old. During the silence of the apparition, the baby called out, "Mumma! Mumma!" It was so wonderful to hear. Later, one of our pilgrims overheard this mother tell another pilgrim that the baby had never said "Mumma" before; this was the first time. After the apparition, Marija would share that she recommended everyone and their prayer intentions to Our Lady. Marija often mentions that Our Lady asks us for our prayers and sacrifices, for peace – starting first with peace in our hearts, then peace in our families, and peace for the world.

In the evenings, after the day's events, pilgrims would often gather in the large foyer where there are many lounges and coffee tables. Marija would often join, and said she very much enjoyed practicing her "English" with us. The night before we were due to depart, our Chaplain had just finished blessing religious articles set out on a coffee table. We were gathered around, recounting our time during our stay, having a few laughs, and lamenting that the pilgrimage had come to an end. Marija joined us for a lovely chat. She stayed quite a while, but spoke mostly about the day-to-day aspects of Medjugorje, the people and some history. However, my heart started to burn with questions about Our Lady, though I dared not ask. I didn't want to be one of those overly curious, tiresome pilgrims she'd likely encountered all too many times. But I wanted to hear more about what Our Lady is like. How did She address her? Was it formal or informal?

Finally, after a prayer, I summoned up the courage: "Marija, when you speak with Our Lady, does She speak to you at the level of the world, or does She speak to you on a personal level?" Maria looked at me; I could see she wanted to answer me fully so I would understand, and the answer she gave in her broken English, though simple – was full and comprehensive. "Our Lady is first a Mother, but she is also Queen." I then sought clarity: "Oh, so there is distance between you?" Marija quickly corrected me, "No, no, not distance, respect." I sat and let that sink in. Marija also said that Our Lady has a most beautiful and regal posture. One of our pilgrims, Philip, interjected: "Oh, so She stands like a queen?" Marija looked at Philip, put her hand on his arm and said, "Not like a queen. She IS Queen." The silence that followed as we all weighed that up was so appropriate. Marija then went on to say, "When Our Lady looks at you, you are like Her only child. She looks at you with such love, it reaches through your soul, right down to your little toe." Smiling, Marija asked for the English word for the smallest (pinkie) toe. Finally, she said, "When you meet a very famous person, you might feel very excited at first. After a while, that feeling goes. With Our Lady, that feeling never goes; it is always like the first time."

These simple words conveyed a deep meaning to me. The paradox that Our Lady can command such deep respect merely by Her queenly presence, yet convey a love that is so deep and personal simultaneously, is a mystery to behold.

When we left the following day, having been given this gift from Marija – she came out to say goodbye. I asked if she would bless my children as I pointed the phone camera at her. She gave me a big smile and made a hand gesture of blessing, and warmly wished us all the best.

As we pulled out, I had such peace in my heart. I noticed the sun looked so very much like a host in the monstrose. It is said that the heart of Medjugorje is Adoration, where thousands gather on their knees and adore Christ in the host. The silence and sense of communal peace among so many faithful and mutual adoration for Our Lord, in one place, is unequalled. In the parting sky image, I felt God calling me to try and visit Him more in the Blessed Sacrament. In doing so, my relationship with Jesus has only deepened...

The "Padre Pio of Naples"

Don Dolindo Ruotolo was a devotee of the Blessed Mother and the Rosary. From there came that tenderness which accompanied his incredible strength and his numerous miracles. "The Holy Rosary is the harp of the soul," he would say, "the beads of the Rosary are strings that touch and vibrate in varied and melodious tones, according to the mystery we are contemplating."

"The Rosary is like the ribbon of a machine gun: Every bead is a shot, every affection of the soul is like an explosion of faith that terrifies Satan, and Mary crushes his head once again."

A beautiful initiative for Divine Mercy!

On April 24, 2023, for Divine Mercy Sunday, a new place of prayer was born in Medjugorje. At the edge of the small road that winds at the foot of Apparition Hill, not far from the cemetery of Bijakovici, you will find a statue of the Merciful Christ under a large stone vault. You will also see a water fountain, the source of which is about fifty meters below the ground. This water is pure, drinkable and properly analyzed. Taps have been set up for those who come to pray. This is an open-air place, very simple, blessed and accessible to all, an ideal place of prayer for the Chaplet of Divine Mercy!

From an Interview with Marija

From Papaboys.org

Q: The Madonna wants the consecration to her Immaculate Heart. But does she wish this only for individuals or for cities and regions also?

Marija: For all. Because a few years ago I was in Syracuse. And while at the sanctuary to Our Lady in Syracuse, we consecrated all of Sicily through the priests and bishops, all of the parishes. And there was a great celebration through the whole region as all were united in this and they made a special prayer for this occasion. And when the Madonna appeared she prayed over us and accepted this consecration. And she said, "For this consecration you will not get lost. Neither you nor your children nor your children's children" Because this is beautiful to put ourselves under her mantle, under her protection, not only our lives but also everything, our homes, our cities, our work, our future. I warmly recommend this.

Q: Marija, the Immaculate Heart of Mary will triumph?

Marija: Yes, Our Lady has said that her Immaculate Heart will triumph.

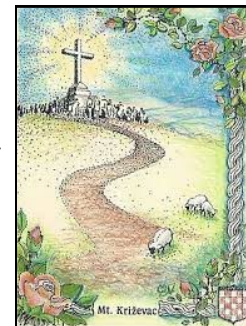

Q: And there will be a new springtime of the faith and love here in Italy and everywhere.

Marija: Yes, but it already has begun. In me, in you as a priest, through our conversion, in my husband and my family and all those who are listening to her words and are trying to convert because Our Lady is trying to change us because this time belongs to her.

We always thought of this as a mystery because things are so dark but as Fr. Jozo often said, we have to hit the very bottom before we start to rise up again, and after to rise up through holiness and through prayer. Because modern mankind is lost. We don't know who we are and where we are going. But I believe profoundly, Our Lady is leading us, she is leading us back up to God. She has said without God you do not have a future, you do not have eternal life.

Q: And Our Lady loves us?

Marija: Yes, Our Lady loves us, she loves each of us more than you can imagine.

On May 13, 1917, at Fatima (Portugal), Our Lady appeared to 3 little shepherds and gave them some important words. Among them she said:

"Pray the Rosary every day to obtain peace for the world and the end of the war." Then she told them about their mission: "Jesus wishes to use you to make me known and loved. He wants to establish a devotion to my Immaculate Heart throughout the whole world."

At the end of the apparition, the children saw a Heart near Mary's right hand and this Heart was surrounded by thorns – cruel thorns piercing it. This apparition speaks loudly for our time and for the weapons we are invited to use for the victory!

The one who incites, prepares and sends false prophets into the world is always Satan. Knowing the irreversible rejection of the Angels who have become demons for their rebellion due to their pride and disobedience, one understands better the deadly hatred and the severe restlessness of the demons against each of us. Not being able to hit God, for revenge they strike all of us, because we walk towards Paradise, while for the demons Paradise will be eternally inaccessible.

Satan today dominates the world with his spirit of pride and rebellion. He dominates all those who do not pray and live in sins and continuous immoral amusements. He dominates in many hearts full of hatred, revenge, malice, blasphemy against God and all that is good. Thus, Satan is leading an immense number of people on the path of damnation due to sin, the incessant seeking of pleasure, disobedience to God's law, rejection of the sacred and all that is holy.

Satan has convinced millions of Catholics that sin is no longer evil and so sin is justified and committed by many without scruples of conscience. Many no longer confess sin anymore. Many who until a few years ago preached on the gravity of sin, today justify it, leading millions of faithful to live in grave sins. Incredibly, an intellectual transformation has taken place, due to the lack of true prayer, contrition, and moral relaxation.

If before, sin was considered an offense against God, today it is no longer an offense, but considered true freedom. This is the same way Satan reasons. He hates the truth. This is why Our Lady said that "Satan makes fun of you and your souls." (March 25, 1992).

Our Lady, in the Light of God, knows what is coming. The future is present to Her. She knows the good and also those who want to destroy humanity, because they have put themselves at the service of the world's first impostor: Satan. Our Lady said this on March 25, 1993: "Dear children, today as never before I invite you to pray for peace: peace in your hearts, peace in your families and peace in the whole world; Because Satan wants war, wants the lack of peace, and wants to destroy all that is good. Therefore, dear children, pray, pray, pray. Thank you for responding to my call!"

And if someone complains because he does not feel help from Our Lady, meditate well on these words of hers: "I cannot help you because you are far from my Heart. Therefore, pray and live my messages and thus you will see the miracles of God's Love in your daily lives." (March 25, 1992).

Return Service Requested

Our primary goal, our main focus, is to bring Jesus Christ to the world and to bring the world to Jesus Christ. To accomplish this task, the MIR Center of Western Colorado was established to provide accurate information about the messages and events originating from Marian apparitions occurring in Medjugorje and elsewhere. We are committed to living and sharing the messages of Medjugorje and helping others to live the messages as well. By living the messages of Medjugorje, which are in essence the message of the Gospel, we hope to spread peace into our families, into our communities, and into our world. As a nonprofit organization, we intend to use any and all funds raised or donations received to aid in spreading the messages of Our Lady to all who will listen. With regard to the apparitions occurring in the world today we humbly submit to the final authority of the Catholic Church.
